

Alderman Eugene Schuller of the 47th Ward welcomes Derek Luszc to the Mayor Daley Reception in honor of German Day 2007. The alderman introduced Derek Luszc as the new proprietor of Meyer's Delicatessen on Lincoln Avenue in Chicago.

Mr. Luszc tells us that they are well underway in renovating the store, including a second level with elevator convenience and foresees a possible opening by November 2007.

Derek Luszc is currently owner of Gene's Sausage Shop and Delicatessen at 5330 W. Belmont Avenue, Chicago. The new owners will carry the well-known German imports, including wines and liquors, as well as a complete line of sausages and breads, with which the former customers of Meyer's Delicatessen were so acquainted with. Furthermore, there will be a fresh meat counter and many other specialties for your eating and drinking pleasure.
